NAVAJO NATION DIVISION OF PUBLIC SAFETY ANNOUNCE JOB VACANCY FOR CHIEF OF POLICE

Window Rock, AZ – The Navajo Division of Public Safety – Navajo Police Department in conjunction with the Navajo Nation Office of the President and Vice President (OPVP) are actively seeking a qualified individual to proudly serve as the Chief of Police for the Navajo Police Department. The position of Chief of Police has yet to be filled through prior administrations and has been vacant for almost nine years to date without a qualified candidate. OPVP is now opening this position to any qualified candidate throughout the continental United States.

About the Navajo Police Department

The Navajo Police Department proudly serves the people of the Navajo Nation. The Nation approximately spans the size of West Virginia and encompasses three major states within United States. Currently, there are approximately 300 or less sworn law enforcement officers serving throughout the seven Navajo Police districts and other specialized law enforcement programs within the Navajo Division of Public Safety, which also includes the Navajo Department of Criminal Investigations and Department of Internal Affairs.

About the position

As the Chief of Police, a qualified candidate is not only required to understand the concepts of modern western policing, but to also understand the cultural aspects and fundamental laws of the Navajo Nation. As the Chief of Police, you are subject to travel on a daily basis throughout the Navajo Nation in addressing concerns of its community members, including those government officials that represent the 110 Chapters of the Navajo Tribal Government, including its sub-committees of the Navajo Tribal Council.

OPVP, the Navajo Division of Public Safety and the Navajo Police Department encourage all qualified candidates to please apply by visiting the website of the Navajo Department of Personnel Management at <http://www.dpm.navajo-nsn.gov/jobs.html>.
